

I'm a Captain of an Offshore Diving Support Vessel in the Gulf of Mexico. I routinely use the weather information and traffic information traveling to and from work. I also use the weather information while offshore to give me some heads up to approaching weather. The Xm radio is a godsend to those of us who take it offshore out of range of conventional radio.